PARKE FAMILY HISTORY

The descendants of Arthur and Mary Parke are of Saxon-Scotch origin whose amcestors immigrated into Ballybegley, County Donegal, Ireland, after 1610. Their name was origionally Park but someone during the early lifetime of Joseph Parke, Esq., the second son of John (1), introduced the present method of writing the name. 'Squire Parke had eleven children who all used this method, which, of coarse, helped to introduce it. Two brothers of Joseph Parke,Esq., Arthur 2d and John 2d, never changed the spelling of the name amd those who removed west still adhere to the old Park. However, many of the descendants in Chester County of John 2d and Arthur 2d, have for years surrendered to the wheels of progress.

in 1720 our branch of the Parke family consisted of William, Arthur, Samuel, David and Jane Parke. All perhaps, were married , with families except jane who always lived with her brother, Arthur Parke, William Parke married Jane Hood, daughter of John Hood, the mathematician. They had eight children and always resided in Ireland.

1. John Parke
2. Samuel, who was drowned during a storm on Lough Lewithy
3. Robert Hood Parke, the father of twelve children: John, the Fagg's Manor school teacher; Elizabeth, who died in infancy; Robert jr,Madaline, John Percivan, Ethel C.,Hessie, Annie, Samuel, Elizabeth, William and James Parke.

Of these children, Robert Jr., had a daughter Alice, who married a man by the name of Ewing, and they had five children. Their uncle, John Parke the first child of Robert Hood Parke jr made his will on June 20 1818 leaving these children $6800 and a farm in Luzerne County of 187 acres, with the instruction to his executors "to inter his body in Fagg's Manor Cemetery beside my firends with decens stone, inscribed with the year of my birth1747,and that I lived to instruct, as teacher of youth, three generations of children." He left as a legacy to the Treasurer of the Prebyterian General Assembly for the teaching of the young Indians to read the Scriptures and one to the son of Mrs McCarter,who had lost a leg.

This David McCarter was a teacher in a school managed by Rev. James Latia, Pastor of Upper Ontararo Church. He afterward became a Presbyterian Clergyman and lived and died in Columbus, Ohio.

This John Parke gives his address as Upper Oxford Township,Chester County,Pa., near Russellville. His will was witnessed by his 2d consin John Parke,2d,and by his two sons, Arthur(3) and John (3), of what is now Highland Twonship, Chester County,Pa., Descendants of Arthur and Mary Parke.

4. Martha H, McKay No children
5. Jane Parke married Thomas Crocket, nine children: William Y., Henry, Janie, Samuel,Margaret, James, Ezekiel, robert, and Thomas Parke.
6. Margaret Montgomery had four children; Robert, William John, a physician, and Margaret,
7. Mary Parke, unmarried
8. William Parke had four childrenn: E.J. Alexander,William H., Matilda McKay and Margery. Old William Parkeof Ballybegley, County Donegal Ireland, was a child at the time of the seige of Derry in 1690 adn narrowly escaped being slain by a French Officer in King James' army.

I quote the above data from a typographical family record sent to Samuel R. Parke, about 1895 by J.J. Elder of Woodstock,New Brunswick, who claims to be a great, great, great grandson or old William Parke through a branch of this family which located in New Brunswick, Canada, in 1834 from whom most of our early Parke history has been obtained. The Ballybegley Homestead remained in the Parke family until quite recently. The last owner was Samuel Parke.

Arthur and wife, Mary Parke, and sons, Joseph, John and Samuel, and Margaret who married William Noblitt, Arthur's sister, Jane, and her brothers David and Samuel, with their families, removed to Fallowfield Township, Chester County Pa., about 1720. Arthur Parke died in the latter part of January, 1739 and his wife, Mary, died about 1760. At the head of his grave in Octoraro Cemetery is a memorial stone, ligible within the writer' recollection. Mr and Mrs Noblitt with their daughters, Annie, Margaret and Agnes, after 1740, removed to northern Georgia and there made their permnant home. Samuel R. Parke, while visiting the Atlanta Ga., Exhibition in 1894 called on Robert Parke, a descendant of Joseph Parke son of Arthur and Mary, who interested himself in getting temporary possession of an ancient book containing the Noblitt genealogy from the days of Arthur and Mary Parke, prized most highly by the Noblitts of the present generation. A cursory reading indicated many descendants.

Arthur Parke in his will devised his land estate to his two sons, Joseph and John Parke, subject to payment of legacies to the oter heirs. The two sons divided the real estate among them, Joseph taking the southern part, about 250 acres, with the improvements, entailed by a lifetime residence there of his mother and Aunt Jane. John took the northern part of 300 acres without improvements of much value. Joseph resided at the time and for some time after the death of his father on his father's farm along the Susquehanna River, then occupied his Fallfield estate for a time afterwards removed to South Carolina. His mother and Aunt Jane both dying about 1760 , he returned and sold his property in Chester Co. Pa. During the Revolutionary War his property in South Carolina was very much damaged and his son, John Aurthur Parke was killed in battle; so wrote George son of Joseph Parke, to his cousin, Arthur Parke (2) in 1783.

Joseph Parke's remaining sons, discouraged by losses in the war, removed to Louisville, Kentucky. Robert Parke, after a short sojourn there, returned to Chester County Pennsylvania and died November 1797. Culbertson Parke went to what is now Cincinnati Ohio, and his offsprings are supposed to be found in Indiana and Ohio. George Parke remained in Kentucky, married a Miss Combs and left descendants. One of them George Arthur Parke of Louisville, KY so reports in an effort to find his Chester County kinred.

There is a tradition that Arthur Parke was an elder in a Presbyterian Church in Ireland and with his kindred came over with him about 1720 formed the nucleus for the orginization of the Upper Octoraro Church, Great Valley Brandywine Manor and Conestoga, where he was to preach one fourth of the time to each church.

The preceding pages were taken from Genealogy of the Parke Family, Nine Generations from Arthur and Mary Parke by John P. Wallace, published in U.S.A. 1919

As has been mentioned elsewhere we have long thought the Park family started in France thence to Ireland-Scotland and thence through Nova Scotia to Portsmouth New Hampshire and then Pennsylvania. Two years ago my nephew, Larry Leach, while summering in Nova Scotia did some leg work for me. There were Parks a plenty up there and he gave me some addresses to follow up on.

Allow me to say the Canadians are the most cooperative folk you would ever want to meet through letters. The postmaster at Woodstock, N.B. was most helpful in using the names Robert Butler and Jean Elder as a spring board. Jean Elder wrote me more than once She is in the J.J. Elder line who are directly related to the above Arthur and Mary Parke. She supplied the above material.

Then with the Huguenot connection in mind, I decided to pursue that possibility. I wrote the Huguenot Society of London and was informed that they had no records for Scotland around 1573. There were only three churches that the Huguenots established in England as early as that, Southhampton, Canterbury, and Norwich. The clerk check for me, but no Park or Parc were among the members.

Anyone who wants a background for our familyshould read "Armstrong Notable Southern Families". There is a nice write-up here with the three spellings or the name. It relates the family came from Ireland and gives the Huguenot connection.

Caroljoe Forsythe Lee has written a book "Merry Old Middlesex" of Butler County, Pennsylvania. This is where we really came from. Through her I was made acquainted with Harvey Strain and Gladys Painter. They are in our direct line and live on Park land there. They provided us with the letter David and Rebecca Park wrote to his brother Samuel and wife. Caroljoe was also helpful in locating the graves of our first known forebears, James and Fanny Park. Mildred Adkins first knew Caroljoe and made this connection possible.

Dear Ms Mitchell,

28 August 1973

Your letter has just been passed on to me.

As you will see from the enclosed sheet, we unfortunately have no records for Scotland so that if your ancestors arrived in Scotland around 1573, that would be impossible for us to trace. Also, there were only three churches which the Huguenots had established in England as early as that, Southampton, Canterbury and Norwich. Unfortunately none of these has a PARK or PARC listed.

Yours sincerely,

C.F. HICKEY C F Hickey

Huguenot records

The records of the foreign Protestant refugees here date from the mid-16th century. From this period there were communities in Canterbury, London, Norwich and Southampton. Far more French Protestants came here as refugees in the years leading up to the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685, continuing to arrive in the first half of the 18th century, though in diminishing numbers. Large numbers came to London and other established centres, but new settlements included Colchester, Bristol, Plymouth, Thorney and those in Ireland.

Unfortunately we have no records of any communities of Huguenots which may have existed in the Midlands or the North of England. Records of a small French church in Edinburgh disappeared many years ago, so there is little available on Scottish Huguenots. It is always more difficult to trace a family in our records who may have struck out on their own to a new part of the country, where no French church existed. They would then use the local parish church for the baptisms of their children. Burial records are rare at any time and marriages has to be in the parish church after 1753. By the early 19th century Huguenot records are much thinner.

to her second child Jesse. Mary Ellen, a daughter had been born nine years earlier.

In 1826 another bundle of joy and another boy was born to David and Rebecca. His name was Jesse Byers Park. Why was this middle name used unless our families knew and maybe intermarried in Pennsylvania. This state was also the orgin of the Byers family. Jesse married W382-15872 Dulsabelle Iler and of their descendants it may be impossible to enumerate the educators that have come from this line. He is the one who wrote from the Civil War camp describing conditions so vividly to all of us.

In 1829 another child and another girl was born to David and Rebecca. This was Sarah Bell (16342) who married James Cooksey (1639?) and had three sons and a daughter. The Cooksey name played a prominent place in our household when we were growing up at Narrows. Our farm house and the only place we ever lived was built by Sarah Bell and James Cooksey's son, Trip. Mother always said it was built by barn carpenters inste ad of house carpenters so that explained all the short comings of the house. Trip and Dad were second cousins and when Trip decided to migrate to the wilds of Kansas he found as a buyer for his house, cousin Carson.
I am going to get off the subject to tell a tale of this farm house. It was built in the early 1900's. About two years ago my sister Louise who lives in this farm house decided to have an addition built on and had some weatherboarding stripped off. Snuggled inside the boxing of the house where it had lain for 75 years was a thirty foot rope. A heavy cable that I have in my possession, the kind described to be used on a flat boat. Did Trip put it there for safe keeping? Was it another workman's prank? We will never know.

The PARK family in Ohio County, Kentucky

In our community at Narrows, Ky we were the only family who bore our name,Park. Right away what ever happened good or bad, praise or blame to our name sakes, we were responsible. Not only did we not have any kin at Narrows, we did not know anyone in the county with our name.

It seems origionally the family settled up around Shiloh community. From our father we knew such a community existed but we were never there.

Some of the first generation sons settled around No Creek, and near the Daviess County border but we did not know any of them. Now the one family we did know was the StClair family at Dundee, Ky whose mother was born a Park.

On the following pages I will try to write of my immediate family of Parks. Since this is so personal, it is the hardest book I have ever tried to put together.

Amanda Petty grew up in the Davison Station community and William David Park (Willie) grew up in the Shiloh community. I do not know how they met but no great distance separated the two communities. I do know grandmother said he came courting on a horse, but how else would you go calling on your lady love?

Grandfather grew up in the Shiloh Methodist Church and grandmother was a Baptist when they married. As long as I can remember grandmother was a pillow in the Narrows Methodist Church so she must have made her first and maybe only concession in her life by joining his church.

Grandfather was six years older than grandmother and had been in the Civil War so was more worldly wise than she. Since he died before my parents were married none of us were to know a grandfather Park. Grandmother told us much about him, that he was fine featured and nice looking. I think his picture bears this out. Dad thought he was the bravest man he ever knew. I believe he was a rather agreeable man who let his wife have full rein in running the household as he once said "good thing Mandy is generally right, she has to have her way."

Grandfather served in the Civil War, Union side, in two outfits. We always knew he was wounded at Chicamauga in the right knee. When I sent to Washington, D.C. for his war record I found this correct. Once he was AWOL but in these Washington papers he has a doctors statement that he was physically unable to return to duty because of the knee injury. The record shows he made up the time he lost convelesing. I have no hesitancy mentioning this as the record shows what happened. He was the oldest of five children, of a widow, so it is reasonable to think he could have very well not gone at all. The story is told that he wanted to go to war, hear drums and fight a battle. In return for his War service grandmother received a pension for the rest of her life.

The Pennsylvania ROSS Family in Ohio County, Ky

Well if my abilities as a compiler were ever tested it was on the undertaking to isolate the Ross family of Pennsylvania who came to Ohio County, Kentucky from a whole county of Rosses already residing there.

So very little is known by me of this family. The only fact that I am postive of is that my father's grandmother Sarah Ross came from there and she was red-headed. We also lived with the tradition we were related to the one Betsy Ross the flag maker. Yet I have never heard of a Ross of any location fail to make this claim.

Sarah Ross' mother was a CASTLEMAN and I have been able to go one generation furthur with this name but so far the name John Ross goes no farther than being son-in-law of Jacob CASTLEMAN.

By both tax records and tradition the Ross and Park families journeyed to Kentucky from Pittsburg, PA together. They both settled in Shiloh Community and in one case their children intermarried.

I have always known the Park family came from Squirrel Hill, PA and since I have documents stating that is where the Castleman and Ross families were residing it just follows that they were acquaintances in Pennsylvania.

By Court records in Ohio County, Ky Susannah Castleman Ross brought money with her sufficient to buy better than 800 acres or land. From work done by a Researcher in PA we have record where Jacob Castleman gave his daughter money for this land purchase.

Susannah Ross died before 1850 so we know very little of her life, or where she and her husband were buried. WE do know the names of her children as they were in Court, frequently in an effort to get

About the Author

Most researchers will never see this page when they pick up my little Book. Since this is very likely the case, it will matter little what I relate on the following pages.

I was born in rural Ohio County, Kentucky, on a farm near Narrows, on September 12 1915 to Mary Corinne Thomas and Carson C. Park. Since I was the fourth child and the fourth daughter born to my parents I imagine no great amount of excitement followed my arrival. Narrows, our little railroad town, is one mile and one-half from our farm, and Narrows was where my paternal grandmother lived. These were the only two residences I ever knew until I married.

I attended the one room rural school at Narrows, went to high school three years at Fordsville and one year to Horse Branch high school where I graduated. I enrolled at Western State Teachers College at the age of sixteen, earned a Teachers Certificate but was too young to teach. These were the Depression years, early thirties, so I attended college, came home, went back to school whenever I could and earned a bit over fifty hours at Western during those years.

In 1937 I married Cecil Mitchell of Edmonson County, Ky, a teacher. By 1940 we took up residence in Owensboro and have lived there since. I have two sons adnd when they went away to College I enrolled at Kentucky Weslyan and earned twenty more hours toward a degree. Last year I earned another two hours at Weslyan but that Degree that I sought for so many years seems a dim possibility now.

I have been in Family Research about four years and this is my fourth book. I have enjoyed every minute of this research and hope the later generations benefit from my work.

Seven of the nine children of David and Rebecca Park married. I had tremendous help from someone in each line. There is no way calling the names of all these helpful cousins. I feel I have to mention a few.

As far as I can tell JUNE PARK headed all the Park research.
Mollie Miller and James Park of Rockport, Ky come next.
Without my deceased sister, Loraine Park Williams papers I would not have started on this effort.
Mildred Adkins established a DAR-SAR line from the services of James Park in the Revolution which both male and female can benefit.

All the world knows the history of the persecutions of the Huguenots by the Kings of France. For years France was a furnace of unrest. Just as in the days of Old Rome, fire and sword seemed to strengthen their courage and endurance, rather than make them renounce their beliefs. Many whole families perished, and after years of religious wars many finally fled to other lands.

Marquis Olivier e la Muce, a brave and gallant gentleman, was imprisoned in the Castle of Nantes on the Ilse of Re. Escaping to England he interested himself in the affairs of his countrymen already gathered there, and after ten years they received a grant of 10,000 acres of land in Virginia, from the English King. Four debarkations left Southampton for Virginia in the summer of 1699 - more than 500 people. Names of three of the ships are known - "Pierre and Anthony" (Galley of London), "Le Nasseau" and "Mary and Ann." Four ministers came with the expedition. They were the Reverends James Fontaine, Benjamin de Joux, Louis Latane and Claude Philip de Richebourg. And the names of two surgeons are known - Doctors Chastaine and Paul Micou.

On arriving in Virginia they settled and wrested homes and plantations out of the wilderness; they built a church, a school, a hospital, a smithy.

One can picture the quaint hexagon church where our ancestors worshipped, the gold-chaliced Cherokee roses, the climbing honeysuckle, the violets and mimosa trees in all the glory of a Virginia summer, tranquil refuge after the storm and stress of foreign turmoil.

Then another scene of bare trees, snow covered fields and hills and the little church standing serene and beautiful in Virginia snows Down through the years, as late as 1850, congregations gathered there, and services were held upon this sacred spot.

Virginia welcomed the refugees - the Colony exempted them from taxation for a period of seven years. The Assembly gave, from Falling Creek Mill, meal to those who needed assistance in those first two years. Colonel Byrd, historic Virginia cavalier, evinced much interest in the settlement. Not all of the settlers, by any means, came penniless. It must be remembered that they came from the best blood of France, and many of them had Royal blood in their veins. Some brought valuables and gold, but some were only fortunate in escaping with their lives. To them Virginia owes much, as does the rest of the Southland. They endured untold hardships in those first years. Their children grew to be good men and women and served their country well. Their grandsons were legion in the American Revolution and the War of 1812. They pioneered Kentucky, Tennessee and the West, and have given faithfully of themselves and their goods when duty called. To them all honor!

The original Register of the Church of the French refugees was sold to Mr. Henry Huntington of San Gabriel, California, a collector of rare manuscripts and it is said that he has decided to Will it to the public library of Pasadena.

Should you visit St. Anne's Parish where is located the old Church of Rev. Robert Rose, you may be fortunate enough to find the tombstone of William Witt's wife and read the very interesting inscription thereon.

The old Witt homestead at Roselands in Nelson County, Va., remained in possession of some of the representatives of the family for about 200 years. It passed from the family only a few years ago. (Va. Soldiers 1776, pp. 881,882. Vol. II)

Item: I lend to my well beloved wife, Lucy, and my daughter, Lucy, a reasonable maintenance out of my estate to be given and provided by my son, William Witt; and if in case he deceases before them the estate is to be taken into the hands of my executors to maintain them with during their lives; and my son, William Witt, if alive, to be possessed with all the lands and personal estate goods and chattles I die possessed with, and if in case my son William Witt deceases without heir his estate to be sold and equally divided between Littlebury & George & Elisha Witt my three sons, and all other wills heretofore made I do hereby revoke, and do constitute this my last will and testament. In witness whereof I have set my hand and seal this 4th day of December, 1781. I do hereby appoint John Witt, George and Littlebury Witt executors of this my last will and testament, and desire the same may be recorded.

JOHN his x mark Witt, (L.S.)

Signed, sealed and delivered in the presence of Abner Witt, David Witt, William Witt, John Reid, John x Pucket. Probated 4th March 1782.

Sons David, Abner and Charles Witt were added from family and Bible records of Wallace Witt of Estill County, Kentucky; and family records of Dr. Abner Witt and Mr. N.B. Witt recorded the name of David.

In view of the provision for the "seven first sons as being all of the estate left by me" it is doubtful whether the "seven first sons" included Littlebury, George and Elisha, who were made residuary legatees in case of William's death without issue..

K E Y - W I T T

John Key,Jr., son of John Key,Sr. and his wife Martha (Tandy) Key, was born about 1731, in Virginia. About the middle of the Century he was living in Albemarle County, Va.

On December 27, 1750, he married Agnes Witt in Albemarle County. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robt. Rose, rector of St. Anne's Parish, Albemarle County, and the names are recorded in Rev. Robt. Rose's Diary as "John Key and Agathy Witt."

Agnes Witt was the daughter of William Witt (1675-1754), a Huguenot, who came from southern France in 1699 and settled in Manakintown, but later moved to Albemarle County,Va., where he died in 1754. The old Witt homestead was located at Roselands in what is now Nelson County, Va.

From Albemarle County, John Key,Jr., removed to Amherst County. In 1764 he bought from his brother,Henry, 71 acres of land in that county where they both lived and the next year,1765, he patented 190 acres in that county. (Amherst Co.,Deed Book A, p.223.) John Key,Jr., bought and sold lands in Amherst Parish until November 1777, when he disposed of what was probably the last of his holdings there. (Va. Patent Book 36, pp.839,840; Amherst Co. Deed Book B, p.378; A, p.223; C, pp.35,37; D.p.463.)

In June 1777, John Key,Jr., was appointed road surveyor in Amherst Co., but the following March another was appointed in his place.(Amherst Order Book, 1773 - 1782,pp.187, 217.)

From Amherst County, John Key,Jr., apparently moved to Bedford County about this time, and before 1782 where he lived until 1789. (Land and Personal Tax Lists, Bedford Co. 1782-1789.)

In 1783 he purchased 440 acres on the Staunton River (upper Roanoke River) in southern Bedford County, Va. (Bedford County Deed Book G, p.347; H. p.110) which land he and his wife disposed of in 1788-

He was an ensign in the County Militia.

As surveyor in Amherst County, John Key,Jr.,used his wagon and team in the service of the U.S.

Joseph Staunton Key, born 1759 in Va., was the son of John and Agnes (Witt) Key. (Joseph and Judith Watts marriage record reference: Bedford Co.,Va. General Index to Marriage Instruments not Recorded - by Hurlock: Jan 29, 1784 - Joseph Key to Judith Watts - Minister's return in Deed Book 7, p.334.) He married Jan 29,1784, Bedford County, Va.

Judith Watts, born about 1766 in Virginia, died 1824 in Henry Co., Georgia. She was the daughter of Richard R. Watts, of Amelia County, Va., and his wife Elizabeth Townsend, daughter of John Townsend of England.

About 1787 Joseph Key with wife and child (son),Tandy Watts Key,who was about a year old, migrated to Georgia. The will of Joseph Key is recorded in Henry County, Ga., in the volume entitled "Wills and Bonds" 1823-1834,pp 38-40.(See copy elsewhere in this book)

Tandy Watts Key (eldest son of Joseph & Judith (Watts) Key), was born Sept. 8, 1786 in Va. He died July 7,1840. He was on his way to Columbus,Ga., on business, when he was thrown from his spirited animal and killed. He was buried in Columbus, Ga.

He married July 9, 1809, in Morgan county,Ga.,to Nancy Johnson Beatty. (Marriage Records - Morgan County,Ga.,Book 1808)

When Harriett Eliza Key,(daughter of Tandy Watts Key and his wife, Nancy Johnson (Beatty) Key)married Maxwell Rufus Berry in Henry Co., Ga., they soon afterwards(1854), moved to Atlanta. Their first place of residence, was on a farm in this section which was still sparsely settled, and still made up of farms, was located three miles east of the center of Atlanta, which is now (1949) known as"Ormewood." The farm contained 200 acres. All of this territory is now inside the city limits of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs Berry soon were located inside the city limits where Mr. Berry was associated with T.G.Healey in "hoise building", which business he followed until 1861, when their operations were stopped because of the war.

During the war, Mr. Berry being physically unfit for service "at the front", held the position of Money Clerk in the office of the Southern Express Co.,which position he held until the close of the war hostilities. After the war he and Mr. Healey resumed their former business, which they carried on profitably to themselves and most beneficially to Atlanta. He accumulated considerably property and was a most influential pioneer citizen of Atlanta.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Berry was one of charm and culture and it stood for many years at the corner of Walton and Fairly streets, where the present large building stands and which was built by the old firm of Crumley - Sharp Hardware Co. - Mr. Crumley being a son-in-law of Mr. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry were active and honored members of the First Methodist Church. They were noted for benevolence and many acts of kindness and charity. Mrs. Berry and her daughter, Mrs. Edward McBurney were active and untiring members of the "Board of Women" of the Home for the Friendless.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Berry ~~Berry~~ descended from a line of ancestors who were people of wealth, education and refinement, as well as patriotic, from the"first settlers" in this country on down thro" each succeeding generation to today. The men and women too, were patriotic and a tradition which has been handed down in the family since the Revolutionary War, is "the whole family of Coxes, women included,were patriots and when Gen. Greene, on his march from Cowpens, S.C., on his way to Virginia, in 1781, stopped at the Cox home where the women baked bread and gave the soldiers." (Mr. Berry was a Cox descendant)

Maxwell Rufus Berry was born in Lincoln County, North Carolina, on Feb. 6, 1823. His parents were William Berry and Margaret "Peggy" Mira Cox; (Daughter of Elisha and Margaret (Holland) Cox, of Lincoln Co. N.C.)

In 1835, his father contemplating moving to Georgia, brought young Maxwell with him to Georgia, leaving him with his uncle, Doctor Oliver Cox, in McDonough, Ga., who was engaged in merchandising. Soon after, Mr. William Berry and family moved to Georgia and settled on a farm about eight miles west of McDonough, Henry Co.

When about thirty years of age, Maxwell R. Berry decided that it was about time for him to marry, settle down and establish his own home. In reference to this Mr. Berry said: "On October 3,1853 I was married to Hattie E. Key, of McDonough, the best woman alive, so I think."

Mr. and Mrs. Berry both died in Atlanta. Mrs. Berry passed away on October 23,1895 and Mr. Berry - August 13,1909. They are buried in Oakland Cemetery.

They left descendants who are honored and influential citizens of Atlanta.

WILLIAM WITT, a French Huguenot who emigrated to America, was my paternal great, great grandfather. I have no further information concerning him. A son,

LEWIS WITT, was a veteran of the Revolutionary war, and the father of several children. While there may have been more than that, I have learned of four sons, to-wit:

1. Robert Witt, Sr.,
2. Gordon Reese Witt,
3. Terry Witt,
4. Tine Witt.

1. ROBERT WITT, my great granfather. The limited data I have on him is in some instances conflicting. One source gives his birth as 1765, another as 1768. The former is the more likely, as he enlisted in the Continental Army in 1780. He was born and lived in Bedford County, Virginia, until he came to Kentucky in 1811 or 1813. My father in his diary states there were nine children, but one application for membership in the D.A.R. lists 13, as follows:

1. William Witt, born 1791, married Mary Witt,
2. Mills Witt, married Jane Dawson,
3. Caleb Witt,
4. Lockey Witt,
5. Martha Witt, born 1798, married Joel Strode,
6. Robert Witt, born 1801,
7. Elizabeth Caroline Witt, born 1804, married Aaron Ballard and John Jefferson Young,
8. Reuben Crawford Witt, born 1811, married Rebecca Stall,
9. Rhoda Witt, married _____ Reese,
10. Sallie Witt, married _____ Willard,
11. Christopher Witt,
12. Beckie Witt,
13. Nancy Witt, married Eli Strode.

Robert Witt Sr. married Nancy Reese on Aug. 19, 1790. He was a veteran of the George Rogers Clark Northwest Expeditions, and campaigned throughout the West. He received in recognition of his services two land grants totaling 108 acres. I have no data on their location, value, ordisposition. By 1834 he was in indigent circumstances, and spent the last 14 years of his life withhis daughter, Elizabeth Caroline Young, my grandmother. He was paralyzed on his left side, and nearly or quite blind. These conditions were supposed to have been brought about by the hardships endured during his service in the Clark expeditions. He was buried in the Martin Young family burying ground in Logan County, Ky.

where were the grants?

Descendants of the children of Robert Witt, of whom only those of his daughter, Elizabeth Caroline, are known.

34837 Elizabeth Caroline Witt was born Dec. 22, 1804, in Virginia, died Dec. 26, 1891, in Rockport, Ky., buried in the Baptist Church Cemetery there. Married twice: First on Dec. 24, 1821, to 34906 Aaron Ballard; second on Jan. 18, 1828, to 34836 John Jefferson Young.

To these marriages were born three children; a daughter by the first husband, and two sons by the last husband:

34907 1. Caroline Witt Ballard,
34840 2. John Martin Young,
16317 3. Henry Jefferson Young, my father.

Caroline Witt Ballard married twice: First John Terry Desper; second Thomas Jackson Beasley. For a continuation of her record, please refer to the sections devoted to the BALLARDS, BEASLEYS, and DESPERS.

For a continuation of the record of Elizabeth Caroline Witt, please refer to JOHN JEFFERSON YOUNG, in the sections devoted to the Youngs.

ELIZABETH CAROLINE WITT came to Kentucky from Virginia with her father's family, when she

Where in Ky. did Robert Witt live? Came to Ky. from Bedford Co., Va. in 1810 or 1813 and seemed to be living in Logan Co., Ky. in 1821.

Elizabeth Witt apparently was living in Logan Co. while married to Aaron Ballard. She married him in 1821 at age 17.

was seven years of age. She was married to Aaron Ballard when 16 years of age, and to John Jefferson Young when 24.

Ballard, her first husband, was evidently subject to fits of dementia. One night she awakened with him standing over her with a drawn axe or knife, evidently intending to kill her. By gentle persuasion she brought him back to sanity, when he begged her for forgiveness and agreed to a separation, as she was afraid to live with him longer.

After the above affair he left the community and was never heard from again. On account of his mental condition it was thought he was hiding in the woods, either being afraid or ashamed to show himself, or with intent to make further attacks on his wife, and the woods were scoured for days, but he was never found.

Elizabeth is said to have been a very beautiful woman, and her second husband gave that as one reason for marrying a widow with a child.

After her children were grown, she lived with her daughter Caroline until the latter died, then with my father's family, where she spent the last eight years of her life, dying at 87.

Of Robert Witt's brothers, GORDON REESE, TERRY and FINE WITT, I have no data, but Terry evidently married and had a son Terry, who married a Miss Gist of Hopkins County, Ky., and bore two sons,

Terry Witt III, and Bernard Gratz Witt.

I have no data on TERRY WITT III, but

Bernard Gratz Witt, born Aug. 12, 1847, died
*++++++++++++++++++ Jan. 9, 1929, married
Lida G. Hopkins in 1871, and fathered the following three children:

1. William Hopkins Witt, born Oct. 23, 1871, died Sep. 16, 1895.
2. Maria Gist Witt, born Aug. 25, 1875, died June 25, 1876.

3. Ann Stites Witt, born ~~xxx~~ Sep. 18, 1878, died Dec. 8, 1952, married (date unknown) James L. Lambert, of Henderson, Ky.

To the Lamberts were born two daughters:

1. Elizabeth Hopkins Lambert,
2. Lucie Hamilton Lambert.

Elizabeth Hopkins Lambert, born Sep. 25, 1908, married (date unknown) Van Etten Bent of Jacksonville, Fla. They have a son and a daughter: Elizabeth Ann Bent, born Mar. 23, 1931, and James V. Bent born Feb. 3, 1936.

Lucie Hamilton Lambert, born May 30, ~~1921~~ 1913, married (date unknown) George Stiggxer, Jr., of Henderson, Ky. They have one son, George Stiggxer III, born Nov. 7,1938.

Bernard Gratz Witt went to Henderson, Ky., when he was 19 years of age, and remained there until death. In 1914 ~~xxx~~ he wrote my father that he came to Henderson in 1866, and had been engaged in business there since that time, and was then President of Ohio Valley Banking & Trust Co., which he said was the largest financial institution in Western Kentucky. He stated that at that time he had been married 43 years, and had two grandchildren "who are the delight of my approaching age." He died five years later.

LAURENCE YOUNG, Sr. the first of the name in my line of whom I have any record, was an Englishman who came to America in the latter part of the 17th century, or early in the 18th, and settled in Virginia. I have no data as to the dates of his birth, death, marriage, or arrival in this country; but a grandson, JOHN YOUNG, was born in 1732, and it can be inferred from the letter quoted below that all of his children were born after his settlement in Virginia, and it seems reasonable to place his arrival in America not far from 1700, either way.

"Laurence Young Sr. emigrated from England, and was the first white person who settled in Fredericksburgh on the Rappahannock river, in what is now called Spottsylvania County, Virginia -- from which place he was soon driven by the Indians. He then moved down said river about twenty miles and located himself in what is now called Caroline County. He then had several children (Hence the extent of the name); and his last son, your great grandfather RICHARD YOUNG, possessed the homestead and lived and died there, at the age of 82 years." From a letter from Ambrose Young, Fayette County, Ky., to his nephew Richard Martin Young, Quincy, Ill., dated Dec. 16, 1833.

Laurence Had another son named Laurence Young, Jr. 34886

RICHARD YOUNG, Sr. Although the letter referred to above states that Laurence Young, Sr. had several children, only one, Richard Young, the youngest, is mentioned by name. The early chroniclers were apparently primarily interested only in the direct line of descent. RICHARD YOUNG inherited his father's estate in Caroline County, Va., where he lived until his death at 82 years of age. I have no dates concerning his birth, death, but he was married in 1725 to Mary Brome, daughter of John Brome and Ann Hooper. To them were born eight children, five sons and three daughters, to-wit:

34890 1. Richard Young, Jr. died in 77th year.
34891 2. Laurence Young, died in 74th year.
34881 3. John Young, died in 66th year—1732-1798.
34892 4. Leonard Young, died in 72nd year.
34896 5. William Young, died in 46th year.
34897 6. Jane Young, died in 73rd year.
34898 7. Sarah Young, died in 85th year.
34899 8. Mary Young, died in 92nd year.

Information received after page 1 was written, shows that one of Laurence Young's children was a son named Laurence, Jr. He died Aug. 22, 1778 in his County of Spottsylvania, Va. He was the father of eight children, as follows:

Leonard	True
Nancy	John
Laurence	William
Mary	Catherine

He and his wife Margaret appear to have been separated when he died, as that part of his estate left to her was left to his "ex-wife." Other legatees under the will, which is of record in Will Book E, 1772-1798, Spottsylvania County, Virginia, were son John and son Leonard. At Margaret's death or when she remarried, that part of his estate left to her was to be divided between his eight children, equally.

The correct spelling of the word Laurence in this line is probably Laurance, although both spellings are used in different records.

Of the above list of children, I have no data except as to the third son,

JOHN YOUNG, born 1732, died,1798, the progenitor of my branch of the Young Family, being great, great grandfather of the writer of this Record. Revolution veteran.

See back side of page!

JOHN YOUNG was married twice: First to Mary Martin, daughter of Robert Martin (a Scotsman says Ambrose Young in his letter quoted in part above, but Martane, Martain or Martaine, of French extraction, says Mrs. Mabelle Fishback, of Lexington, Ky., great granddaughter of Ambrose Young, who has made a study of her ancestry.) Mary Martin bore four children and died in 1761, at the age of 34 years. Soon after her death, JOHN YOUNG married her sister, Sarah Martin, by whom there were three additional children - seven in all, as follows:

JOHN YOUNG was born in 1732 in Caroline County, Virginia, where he passed the early part of his life. He then moved to Orange County, Va., where he remained until 1785, when he removed to Kentucky, and settled on the West Fork of Hickman Creek, in Fayette County, later Jessamine County, about eight miles S.E. of Lexington, where he built a handsome, two-story, stone house, and lived until his death. Died: 11 July 1798 - Fayette Co., later Jessamine Co., Ky.

SARAH MARTIN YOUNG, his second wife, after his death in 1798, married in 1800 John Glover, and outlived this husband and all three of her children. She died Jan. 14, 1831, aged 82 years, in Jessamine County, Ky., at the home of her step son and nephew, Ambrose Young, with whom she had lived for several years before her death.

John Young served in the Revolutionary as a private in Capt. Ambrose Madison's Company during April and May of 1779.

"She died calmly and resigned, after an illness of four weeks, with joyous hope in Christ as her Saviour." "She was a member of the Baptist Church, as exemplary Christian, and a most remarkable woman for amiability of disposition, and integrity of character; very much loved and respected by all relations and acquaintenances."

This family of Youngs was well-to-do, and were prominent in the community in which they lived. While some of them remained in Jessamine County, Ky., throughout their lives, others removed to Western Kentucky and to other States, where many of them were as prominent in their new locations as the family was in Central Kentucky.

NANCY YOUNG, oldest child of John Young, born in 1761, died Aug. 1794, aged 33 years and some months. In 1783 she married Hezekiah Proctor by whom she had four children:

(1) John Proctor,
(2) Charles Proctor,
(3) Elizabeth Proctor,
(4) Mary (Polly) Proctor.

JOHN PROCTOR married a daughter of Samuel Offut in Jessamine County, Kentucky.

CHARLES PROCTOR married a Miss Clifford.

ELIZABETH PROCTOR died in infancy.

MARY (Polly) PROCTOR married David T. Smith, and died in Warren or Logan County, Ky. They had several children, five of whom are listed below:

(1) Mary Ann Smith, born June 29, 1824, died March, 1825.
(2) Thomas Stone Smith, born April 16, 1826, died May, 1838.
(3) Coleby Agness Smith, born Mar. 30, 1828.
(4) Sarah Francis Smith, born Feb. 17, 1831.
(5) Elizabeth Jane Smith, born Feb. 14, 1836.

There were probably other children than the above,

✓ or Polly Young (see over on back).

as in one place the record states that Julia Ann Young married the fourth son of David T. Smith. As only one Smith son is listed above, there must have been at least three more.

There is also confusion as to whom David T.Smith married. In one place the record says Mary Proctor, in another Polly Young. The latter is more likely correct, as Richard M. Young's Family History says his sister Polly Young "married David T. Smith, at the old family residence of Abner Young  on the 7th day of September, 1823" and that "they moved to Logan County, Ky., immediately after their marriage *." Maybe Polly Smith married a Proctor first?

ABNER YOUNG, second child and oldest son of John Young, born May 16, 1769, in Orange County, Va., died July 14, 1814, in Jessamine County, Ky., at the old family residence aged 45 years. Married May 29, 1792, to Fanny Bourne, daughter of Francis and Frances Bourne, who was born July 1, 1776, in Culpepper County, Va., and died Jan. 22, 1824, at the old Young residence in Jessamine County, Ky., aged 47 yrs. To Abner and Fanny Bourne Young were born nine children, as follows:

(1) Martin Young, pg 50
(2) Polly Young, pg 52
(3) Richard Martin Young, pg 52
(4) Sarah Martin Young, pg 53
(5) John Jefferson Young, pg 53
(6) Louisa Ann Young, pg 66
(7) Colby Young, pg 68
(8) Philadelphia Young, pg 68
(9) Agnes Young. pg 68

Abner and Fanny Young were married by Rev. Thomas Ammons, a Baptist preacher "remarkable for his large stature, and still more remarkable for his loud voice while preaching."

Abner Young was married when 23 years of age, and after fathering nine children during the 23 years of his married life, died at the early age of 45 years, "after a lingering illness of dysentery." After the death of Abner, his widow,

Fanny Bourne Young, married (2) James Martin, a man considered by the family to be very much beneath her proper station in life; and her two daughters, Polly and Sarah, especially were never reconciled to the marriage. Fanny, herself, was not happy during the time it existed, and was buried beside her first husband, Abner Young. "She was nevertheless a most excellent, kind-hearted woman, respected and beloved by her relatives, neighbors, and servants."

"Abner Young and his wife were buried together on one side of the garden, about 50 yards South of the old family mansion, in Jessamine County, Ky., eight miles S.E. of Lexington, Ky., and about 1/2 mile South of Tate's Creek road from Lexington to Richmond, near the East branch of Hickman creek, which runs along and forms the boundary on the North side of the farm."

Their son, Richard M. Young, in 1846, while living in Washington, D. C., and then Commissioner of the U. S. General Land Office, had a stone wall built around the graves of his father and mother, "16 ft. square, 4½ ft. high, and 2 ft. thick" and in the following year, had head and foot stones prepared in Washington, and shipped to and erected at their graves.

Mabelle Fishback of Lexington, Ky., says in a letter to Arthur T. Iler, dated Sep. 7, 1951, that her sister, Mrs. Loughridge, who lives at their old home on Tates Creek and Ash Grove Road, had gone to the Abner Young farm, then owned by a Mr. Allender, which is across the Ash Grove Road from her home, and found two stones on which was engraved the following: One one stone: "In memory of Abner Young, who parted this life in the forty-fifth year of his age. Died 15th of July, 1813." On the other stone: "Fanny Young, lies buried here and by her side her husband, the spot having been selected by him just before his death, in July, 1811. She was born in Virginia July 1, 1776; married in Kentucky May 29, 1792, and died at this place, their old family residence, Jan. 22, 1821, aged 47 years, 6 months and 2 days. They had issue nine children. This stone was purchased in Washington City by the direction of her son, Richard H. (should be M.) Young of Quincy, Ill., as a tokenof silent affection for his deceased parents, in the year of 1843 (should be 1847), he also having caused the stone wall to be erected around their graves 1846 through the kind agency of his old friend and ~~school mate~~, Parker E. Todhunter. Strangers respect this spot. A. Bradford, Washington, D. C." On the footstone: "A. & Y. 1813."

MARTIN YOUNG, oldest child of Abner and Fanny Bourne Young, born Sep. 1, 1793, died Oct. 8, 1838; married Oct. 20, 1814, to Susan Sale, daughter of James Sale, at her father's residence in Jessamine County, Ky. Susan Sale was born in Virginia in 1795. She died at Bowling Green, Ky.

To Martin and Susan Sale Young were born twelve children, as follows:

(1) Maria Francis Young,
(2) Julia Ann Young,
(3) James Abner Young,
(4) Richard Thomas Young, - r. Bowling Green, Ky.
(5) Sarah Martin Young,
(6) Martha Ann Young,
(7) Robert Sale Young,
(8) Eliza Sale Young,
(9) Susan Agness Young,
(10) Joseph Martin Young,
(11) John Coleby Young,
(12) Mildred Ruth Young.

Note that if Joseph Martin Young had been born in 1834 instead of 1833, all of these twelve children would have been born at two-year intervals.

In 1820 Martin Young left Jessamine County, Ky., and removed to Logan County, Ky., where he spent the remainder of his life. He was buried in his own family burying ground on his farm. He was an outstanding citizen of the community in which he lived, esteemed and loved by his neighbors, mourned at his death by all who knew him. The farm consisted of 200 acres of good land, and there was a mill, a blacksmith shop, and maybe other enterprises of convenience to the neighborhood. After his death, his widow had built a "comfortable brick home on the place, 40 x 20 ft., two stories high" and continued to operate the farm in an efficient manner. She is said to have died of Cholera in Bowling Green, Ky., at the home of her son, Richard Thomas Young.

Maria Francis Young, oldest child of Martin and Susan Sale Young, born Jan. 6, 1816, married Dec. 6, 1839, to Samuel Bourne, son of Rev. Ambrose Bourne. They had one child, Mary Susan, born in 1840.

Julia Ann Young, the seond child, born April 14, 1818, married Aug. 22, 1839, to John Smith, fourth son of David T. Smith, of Logan County, Ky. There were at least two children born to them, daughters Fannie and Lamia. Fanny Smith became a very large woman, weighing between 300 and 400 lbs., and on that account would not marry until past child-bearing age., when she married ex-Governor Buckner of Kentucky. Maggie married a young doctor, Lorehead, who located and practiced for a time at Rockport, Ky., but a Doctor Layton, well established there, made it so uncomfortable to him, as he did to other doctors who located there, that Dr. Lorehead did not remain a great while,

James Abner Young, third child, born April 27th, 1820, died in 1846 at Clarksville, Tenn., where he was teaching school.

Richard Thomas Young, fourth child, born March 25, 1822, no data as to death, marriage, etc. He lived and died in Missouri, and in the latter years of his life, operated Hotel Summit, at Lee's Summit, Mo. In 1892, when he was 70 years of age, he was given a big birthday party, which he described in a letter to my father, his cousin.

Sarah Martin Young, the fifth child, born June 10th, 1824. She married, to whom I have not learned, and lived near Sandoval, Ill. She had several children, as follows: Joe, "Sis"; Lee; Sam; George; Maggie; Susie; Rufus; "General"; and Jimmie. Most of these children remained in or near Sandoval, Ill., but one went to Texas and another to Arkansas.

Martha Ann Young, sixth child, born March 30, 1826, married in 1847 to James Carroll of Todd County, Ky.

Robert Sale Young, seventh child, born May 27, 1828. Was living in Effingham, Ill., in 1901.

Eliza Sale Young, eighth child, born March 16, 1830, commonly known by the nickname of "Shug." No other data concerning her has been found.

Susan Agness Young, ninth child, born Jan. 27, 1832, died Sep. 24, 1832.

Joseph Martin Young, tenth child, born July 22, 1833, commonly known by the nickname of "Seph." He married a widow (date and name unknown to me) with two children, and four more were born to them. In 1912 and 1914 my father had letters from him, written from Beebe, Ark., where he was living.

John Coleby Young, eleventh child, born June 16, 1836, died in 1899, in Rich Hill, Mo.

Mildred Ruth Young, twelfth and last of the children of Martin and Susan Sale Young, born April 23, 1838. No additional data has been found.

MARY (POLLY) YOUNG, second child and oldest daughter of Abner and Fanny Bourne Young, born Oct. 10, 1795, married Sep. 7, 1823, to David T. Smith, at her father's residence in Jessamine County, Ky., and moved immediately to Logan County, Ky. David T. Smith was born June 19, 1788. See pages 3 and 4 concerning the marriage and family of David T. Smith, about which there is considerable confusion.

RICHARD MARTIN YOUNG, third child of Abner and Fanny Bourne Young, born Feb. 20, 1798, died in 1861, married June 25, 1820, to Matilda James, of St. Genevieve, Mo. Buried in Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

b. Fayette Co., Ky. (now Jessamine Co., Ky.)
d. Washington, D.C.

Children of Richard Martin and Matilda James Young:

(1) A son, unnamed, stillborn in the Spring of 1821.
(2) Matilda Young, born Nov. 8, 1831, married Robert Nathuel, of Georgia.
(3) Berenice Adelaide Young, born Oct. 27, 1835, died 1862, in Richmond, Va. Married John A. Crawford, of Georgia. At her death there was an infant daughter, who survived only a few months.

Richard Martin Young was born in Jessamine Counto, Ky., and was educated at "Forest Hill," the private academy of Samuel Wilson, Esq., where many of the sons of the State's first families of the day were educated. He studied law, settled in Illinois, where he held a number of public offices, including Illinois Judgships, U.S. Senator from Illinois, Commissioner of U. S. Land Office, and others. In 1839 he was Commissioned by Gov. Carlin of Illinois, to negotiate loand in Europe for the construction of the "Illinois and Michigan Canal. This he succeeded in doing in the following October, with the house of John Wright & Co. in London, after much delay and several disappointments. He was entrusted with a number of other important special duties for his State, and was one of Illinois' most important men of his time.

SARAH MARTIN YOUNG, fourth child and second daughter of Abner and Fanny Bourne Young, born Feb. 10, 1800, died May 17, 1829. Married Mar. 23, 1820 to Sanford Poston, at the family residence in Jessamine County, Ky., by Rev. W. Stuart, a Presbyterian Clergyman. She had but one child, Sally Ann Poston, born in 1829, died in 1833. Both she and her child were buried in David T. Smith's burying ground, at one side of his garden in Logan Co., Ky.

ghter by a former marriage, a little over four years of age.

Children of John Jefferson Young and Elizabeth Ballard:

(1) John Martin Young,
(2) Henry Jefferson Young.

John Jefferson Young, my grandfather, was born in Jessamine County, Ky., and in 1820, when he was 18 years of age, moved to Logan County, Ky., along with his brothers Martin and Colby. They were later joined there by their remaining brother, Richard Martin Young. Logan county was at that time the outpost for "supply trains" (wagon trains) going westward, and was considered a very good place to make money. In 1833 brothers Richard and Colby moved on to Illinois, but Martin and John Jefferson remained in Logan Co. until the end of their lives.

Jefferson, as he was affectionately called by many of his relatives and friends, was a handsome man and very fond of the pleasures of the day. He was considered quite a "sport" and gave more attention to having a good time, than to making a support for his family. Married at the age of 26, six years later he died of tuberculosis, leaving behind a widow and three small children - Caroline W. Ballard by his wife's first husband, and two sons of his own, aged less than three years, and a little more than one year, respectively. He spent much of the time during his last illness at the home of his brother, Martin Young, who had a large, productive farm and a large comfortable home, where it was thought he could be better cared for than at his own modest home, where his wife had the care of three small children, and her invalid and blind father. But a few days before his death, he requested that he be taken to his own home, where he died, and was buried in his brother Martin's burying ground, near Gordonsville, Ky.

John Jefferson was often called "The Major," for what reason I have not learned, but I am under the impression that it was merely a nickname.

At the time of his marriage, John Jefferson was one of a group of "gay young blades" who once a month staged a stag party, with feasting, refreshments and entertainment, including a negro string band, recruited from among the numerous slaves owned in the community. Among the favorite entertainers was "Ole Aunt Judy" - an elderly, hilarious and rather comical old slave belonging to the Jackson family. When well liquored Old Jude was a scream at improvising ribald songs, and at slap stick buck and wing dancing. "She was black as the ace of spades, with wrinkles in her face an inch deep, and lips like two chunks of hog liver." She was rowdy, irrepressible, and original. Then there was the bright copper-colored mulatto owned by the Harrel family, who furnished an entirely different form of entertainment, and she entered into it with a zest and enthusiasm which in and of itself was shocking to the womenfolk who had knowledge of these sessions. Mag was youthful, with beautiful features and a splendid physique; a telented dancer, with a rich contralto voice for the lusty songs of the day, most of which found their origins around the negro shindigs and barn dances. But beyond these talents "Yellow Mag" possessed in her repertoire a feature act which never failed to bowl them over, and which was equivalent to the "strip tease" of a later date.

Grandmother Young, like others of the neighborhood women, had some knowledge of the nature of these doings, and determined to break "The Major" from attending. One evening, after their first child was weaned, and he was dressed and ready to join his cronies, she asked: "Major, where are you going?" He replied that he was going to a stag dinner some of the fellows were having, but that he wouldn't be out late. "Oh, that's all right, just give me a few minut es to dress, and I will go along with you." "Oh, no, mother, you are too smart for anything like that!" but she replied that anything that was good enough for him was good enough for her, and persisted in her determination to go along with him. "The Major" declined to permit her to participate in the frolic, and from all accounts that terminated his riotous living.

John Martin Young, oldest of the two sons of John Jefferson and Elizabeth Caroline Young, born Oct. 24.

1831, died Oct. 18, 1865. Married Nov. 11, 1854, to Catherine J. Carr. born in Butler Co., Ky. (?) She took kids to Illinois after he died & remarried

To them were/four children, as follows:

(1) David J. Young, born Jan. ~~16~~ 15, 1856, in Butler Co., Ky.
(2) Joseph L. Young, born Mar. 9, 1858, in McComb, Ill.
(3) Lucida E. Young, born June 26, 1860, in McComb, Ill.
(4) Adda C. Young, born Dec. 15, 1863.

Maybe skedwent to Sandoval or Quincy Ill ? or maybe McComb, Ill. where her son Joseph L. Young was living in 1902. She moved to Ill. Co. in 1865 or 1866 After her husband died & remarried to whom?

Born in Logan County, Ky., his widowed mother moved to Todd County, Ky., when he was a few years old, and about 1853 or 1854 the family moved to Butler County, Ky., where his half sister Caroline was living, having married T. J. Beasley. After David's death, his widow moved with the children to Illinois, where she married again. Little is known of the family after they went to Illinois. In 1902 David J. wrote my father, his uncle, from Chillicothe, Mo., saying he had no children, but that his brother, Joseph L., who lived in McComb, Ill., had two daughters and a son. David J. stated in his letter that he married a German girl named Weitrick, and that Chillicothe was at that time a very dull place for business, as there was a drought, and a smallpox epidemic, and the railroad shops had been moved away from that place.

His remains lie in the Baptist Church Cemetery, at Rockport, Ky., and along with those of his mother, his wife, and a son.

County Seat. His father died when he was about fifteen months old, leaving his mother with 3 small children to raise, and an infirm and blind father to care for. In his diary, Henry J. says she did these things in a creditable manner, although "under adverse circumstances", and it can well be imagines that the task was a severe one, as her husband left her with no estate except a small farm. The community in which they lived was largely undeveloped a hundred and more years ago, and the children received only a minimum education, consisting principally of "readin', writin', and the single rule of three." There was some two or three months of winter schooling, after which it was necessary for the boys to assist in making a living for the family.

The farm, near Gordonsville, Logan County, Ky., was sold after the father's death, and another a few miles West of Gordonsville was rented. After a few years, the mother bought some uncleared land about four miles East of Elkton, Ky., in Todd County, where the boys undertook to "open a farm." He states in his diary that his brother and he were getting up pretty well in size, this work went along pretty well, and the neighbors often helped.

His sister Caroline was married first in 1841 to Clarence Desper, and in 1852 to T. J. Beasley, 34852 and his brother John married in 1854. About this time Henry J. began to engage in various activities for himself, among which was selling patent medicines in Tennessee; as cabinet maker apprentice to William Huffman in Elkton, Ky., at a salary of $40.00 a year and board; as cabinet maker for a Mr. Chapell in S. W. Todd County, who failed to pay him any wages at all. These were followed by an adventure in the Furniture business in Harreldsville, Ky., and in the Grocery business at Brownsville, Ky. Thereafter he worked at the carpentry trade until 1861, when on account of the outbreak of the war between the States, everything became so demorilized that he did little "except farm a little" until 1865, when he engaged in the General Merchandise business at McReynolds Mill, Logan County, Ky., with P. L. McReynolds as a partner.

All his previous ventures had been practical fail ures, but here at last was something which was a profitable success. A few years later his marriage took place, a home was built, and after a few more years, in 1872, another move was made, to Rockport, Ky., where a new railroad was being built, "to begin a new life (as it were) among strangers." The railroad then being built was the E. & P.)Elizabethtown and Paducah), later from time to time becoming the C. & O. S. W., N. N. & M. V., and finally and now a part of the Illinois Central System.

Henry J. engaged in the mercantile business in Rockport, successfully and profitably, for the next 30 years or so. Interspersed were a timber operation in Butler County, and a Flour Mill at Rockport and Delaware, both of which were failures. (FLOUR MILL ONLY A FAILURE)

About the year 1900 he became restless, and dissatisfied with Rockport, and moved to Millwood, Grayson County, Ky., where he engaged in the mercantile business for a while. After a few years there , the urge to move took him to Central City, Ky., then to Beaver Dam, and finally back to the old home town of Rockport.

During his residence in Central City the second son, Morton, a telegraph operator, was struck by a train and died, and a while after his return to Rockport the wife and mother died, both of which were tragedies from which he never recovered. The same may be said about the death of the first born, daughter Fannie, a beautiful, golden-haired child, intelligent far beyond her three years, the pride and joy of her parents. Her early death was a shock from which neither parent recovered throughout their lives. This first death, however, occurred when they were younger and more resilient, and was followed by the births of the other children, while the latter deaths came at a time when there was little to look forward to, and were immeasureably depressing.

When 19 years of age he united with the Hebron Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) near Daysville, Ky., and was a devout Christian, a model father, husband, and citizen to the end of his long life.

The Virginia and early Kentucky Youngs appear to have been consistently Democratic in politics, but father became Republican in early life and remained faithful to that party to the end. He supported Woodrow Wilson in his second race for the Presidency, because "He kept us out of war", but when we finally entered the first world war, he regretted his support, and never afterward vited for a Democrat for a National or State office.

Fannie Wilson Young, first of the children of Henry J. and Sallie W. Young, born Aug. 20, 1871, died Aug. 10, 1874, buried in Rochester, Ky. Cemetery. She was an extremely beautiful and precocious child, and her death was mourned by her parents throughout their lives.

Nellie Catherine Young, the second child, born July 7, 1874, married May 1, 1895, to William Perry Iler, son of Robert Triplett and Sally Mary Iler, of Muhlenberg County, Ky. To them were born the following seven children:

Nellie Catherine attended the common school in Rockport, Ky., where we were raised, then Hartford College, Hartford, Ky., and Logan Female College, Russellville, Ky, Her studies included Music and Art, which while not practiced actively after her marriage, were always a source of pleasure to her. Widowed soon after the birth of the last child, she assumed the responsibility ~~which~~ with efficiency, great industry, good management and sound judgment. She and the older boys continued to operate her husband's general store and farms, at Rockport, after which she conducted a hotel at Beaver Dam, Ky., and later a boarding and rooming house at Owensboro, Ky.

My Father

William Gordon Iler, the oldest of the Iler children, was born Feb. 11, 1896, married June 16, 1925, to Nellie Bir, daughter of John B. and Tennie Bir of Beaver Dam, Ky. To them were born two sons: William Gordon Iler II, born April 2, 1929, and Morton Park Iler, born Sep. 25, 1935, neither of whom have married when this was written. "Will Gordon" after his marriage spent several years as a Motor Oil Distributor in Huntingburg, Ind., then as Traveling Salesman for Oil Refineries, and later for a Wholesale Grocery in Louisville, Ky. Charles Brady Iler, the second of the children, born Oct. 14, 1897, married Oct. 9, 1924, to Vivian Ruth Williams, daughter of Brooks F. and Lettica Williams, of Welch, W. Va. This union produced one child, a daughter, Joan, born July 16, 1925. Not married. She lives and works in Washington, D. C., in one of the Government Departments. The marriage of Charles and Vivian was not a success, and a separation occurred after a short time. Charles was a piano salesman in Louisville, Ky., Welch, W. Va., and Champaign, Ill.; later in Washington, D. C., he engaged in the real estate business. He has a good farm near Bethesda, Md., a neighbor to newscolumnist Drew Pearson, where he lives, and goes to his work in Washington.

He later was with the Federal Housing Adm., in Louisville, Ky.,was Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky during Hubert Meredith's term as Attorney General, after which he opened a law office in Central City, Ky. They have two sons: Thomas Lee Gwin, born Nov. 28, 1943, and Charles Fabius Gwin, born Oct. 28, 1945. A few years after the death of her husband in 1938 she became employed by S. W. Anderson Co., Owensboro's largest Department Store, as assistant manager of the Children's Apparel Department. She soon became Manager and Buyer of that Dept., doing most of her buying in the city of New York, to which she made frequent trips in that capacity.

Died 15 Oct 1971.

Robert Young Gwin, born Aug. 6, 1955

Kathryn Norton Iler, fifth child and second daughter, born Feb. 12, 1904. Not married. A prolonged childhood illness arrested her growth, but notwithstanding this physical handicap she developed into an amazingly active, capable and efficient woman. She remained at home with her mother and took an active part in the management of the rooming house which they operated. Her small stature did not prevent her from making a host of friends, with whom she associated on terms of equality in every way.

Henry Colby Iler, born April 24, 1905, died Nov. 29, 1950, married Aug. 8, 1933, to Nancy Smith, daughter of Robery and Ann Smith, of Gainesville, Ga. To them were born two sons: Henry Colby Iler II, born May 9, 1934, and Robert William Iler, born October ____, 1937, died July 12, 1939. Henry lived in Washington, D. C. , the greater part of his adult life. Like his brother, Arthur, he studied law there, but did not actively practice. He occupied various Government positions, was for a time Chief Assistant to President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, and shortly before his death, was elected President of the American Federation of Government Employees - a position which he did not live to fill.

Morton Tanner Young, fourth child and second son of Henry J. and Sallie W. Young, born Sep. 7, 1885, died May 17, 1906, buried at Rockport, Ky., Baptist Cemetery. Did not marry. Morton was a very bright boy, with a quiet, retiring disposition, not very strong physically, and with a slight defect in his hearing. He never acquired any of the bad habits common to growing-up boys and young men, and was loved and admired by all who knew him.

When 17 years of age, living in Millwood, Ky., he studied telegraphy in the I.C.R.R. agency there. After studying only three months, he took an examination in Louisville, Ky., passed, and was given employment. Of the nine children of Abner and Fanny Bourne Young, most is known of, and is here recorded, of the first, third and fifth - Martin, Richard M. and John Jefferson. Martin Young was the oldest and the leader of the family, being an outstanding man in the community in which they lived; Richard Martin was the most famous of the family, on account of political accomplishments, and in addition left behind his own Family Record, from which much contained in this one has been taken. John Jefferson, being my grandfather, naturally more of his history and his family were handed down to his descendants. No partiality has been intended, and it is because of a lack of data that the others are not as fully covered.

Ambrose Young died at his old family residence, a farm of some 500 acres lying on the Tate's Creek Road, leading from Lexington, Ky., to Richmond, Ky., and about ten miles from the former place. This place was purchased about 1843 by Robert Simpson, who married Sedonia Young, daughter of Minor Young. Ambrose was a successful slave-owning planter, respected, admired and loved by all in the community in which he lived, and by all who knew him.

His widow, Fanny Alcock Young, after his death lived with her youngest son, Ambrose Madsion Young, on the 315-acre home farm of John M. Young, youngest son of Ambrose Young's older brother, Abner Young. This farm had been acquired by Ambrose Young from the South family, and from him descended to Ambrose Madison Young.

THOMAS ALCOCK YOUNG, born Nov. 18, 1797, died April 17, 1831, married Sarah H. Johnson, of Warren County, Ky., on Sep. 25, 1823, and moved to Palmyra, Mo. Died of T.B. after his return from a trip to New Orleans, where he had gone in search of health. There were two children born to them: Francis Ann Young, born_____ died Aug. 6,1841, and Malvina Young, on whom I have no data.

JOHN TAYLOR YOUNG, born Jan. 12, 1800, in Fayette County, Ky., died Aug. 7,1854, near Richmond, Mo. Married May 10, 1828, to Louisa Sneed, daughter of John Sneed, Esq., of Clay County, Mo. To them were born eight children, all of whom were living in 1881, but I have found data on only four of them, as follows:

(1) Lebron Young,
(2) Ambrose Young,
(3) Eliza Young,
(4) Warren Young.

Alonzo F. Young was probably another son, but I have found no date regarding him.

When 27 years of age John Taylor Young left Jessamine County, Ky., and went to Independence, Mo., where he married and established a home on a small body of land. In 1829 he removed to eight miles North of Richmond, Mo., to a tract of 1160 acres of land, which he acquired by entry, and later purchased. Here he spent the remainder of his life, and developed his land into a fine farm and himself into a fine farmer.

Rainwater, of St. Louis, Mo. To them were born ten children, but no data on any of them has been found. All but one were living in 1881, and at that time he and his wife were living near Millville, Mo., and he was regarded as a prosperous farmer and business man.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, Masonic Lodge, and Postmaster, all at Millville, Mo., and also once a partner with Fletcher Graham in a mercantile business. He had a good farm of 300 acres, located 2½ miles South of Millville, on the Richmond road.

Eliza Young, the third child, married H. C. Kell, and there the record stops.

Warren Young, the fourth child of John Taylor and Louisa Sneed Young, was married Nov. 26, 1865, to Harriett Foushee (or Fourshee), daughter of William Foushee, of Richmond, Mo. They had seven children, all living in 1881, but unfortunately none of them were listed by name, and no data on them has been found.

(1) RICHARD YOUNG, born 1782, died 1795.
(2) Colby Young, born 1786, died 1800.
(3) John M. Young, born 1788, died 1819.

As the two oldest died in their early teens, and John M. Young when only 31 years old, and unmarried, there were no descendants of this branch of the family, and little to record. John M. Young inherited the old family mansion in Jessamine County, Ky., and was a man of some wealth and fine personal appearance. He was a sportsman who kept fine horses and well-trained hounds, and spent much of his time in such sports as they provided.

Dear Mr. Iler :
Thank you for your deposit of $100.00. I am pleased to send you a variety of material on the Iler , Witt, Ballard , Hill, Baylor and Young families .
I have sent for the National Archives Revolutionary War pension files for Jesse Witt and Elisha Witt and will mail them to you as soon as they arrive (4-6 weeks).

There is The Diary of Frances Baylor Hill of "Hillsborough" King and Queen County, Virginia (1797) edited by William K. Bottoriff and Roy C. Flannagan of Ohio University, 1967. I've enclosed the diary's introduction for your information. If If you would like a copy of the diary itself, please let me know. The Edward Hill in which you're interested was one of the children of Humphrey Hill and Frances Baylor of Hillsborough in King and Queen County of which the county's records have been destroyed twice by fire. Edward Hill also married a Frances Baylor, his first cousin. Edward died in 1816. I have sent the following items on the Hill and Baylor families:
"Some Descendants of Colonel Humphrey Hill of King and Queen County, Virginia," compiled by Elizabeth H. Ryland, 1948, pp. 6-7, 17-18, Accession # 23503, Library of Va. Archives.
"A Partial History of Humphrey Hill Who Immigrated to America in 1721 and Settled at Hillsboro, in King and Queen County, Virginia," Richmond, Va., 1893, pp. 9-11. Please inform me if you would like the entire copies of the above two items on Humphrey Hill.
Virginia Colonial Abstracts, Vol. 2 , Beverly Fleet, comp., Baltimore : Genealogical Pub. Co., 1988, pp. 7, 142, 188-190, 201, 306, 343-346, 389-391, 406-407, 433, 519-529.

I am including Ilor family data from the following two sources:
1) Gilreath, Amelia C.(compiler), Shenandoah County, Virginia Deed Books I, K, L 1792-1799 , Nokesville, Va., 1991, pp. 3,6,11.

See enclosed copy that includes deed from Martin Picket and Anna his wife of County of Fauquire to Mark Ilor of Shenandoah County (pg. 3); deed of Adam Holker that mentions the deceased Mark Ilor and his son and heir at law Abraham Ilor from the Mississippi Territory(pg. 6) and Deed between Abraham Ilor and Philip Granstaff (pg. 11).

2) Gilreath, Amelia, Shenandoah County, Virginia Deed Books O, P,Q 1804-1809 , Nokesville, Va., pg. 41. See enclosed copy that mentions Mark Ilor and Margaret his wife.

Ms. Gilreath also has a compilation Shenandoah County, Virginia Minute Book (1774-1780) . On page 4 of this book, a Feb. 1775 Lease and Release for Land from Mark Ilor and wife to Frederick Andrick ack. and ordered to be Recd. Page 10 of the book mentions an Aug. 1776 Lease and Release for Land from Mark Ilor and wife to Henry Fravell was acknowledged by the parties and ord. to be Rec'd.

men, to strike the Head of Kentueky and go down it as far as the three Forks, where the Southern Indians pass going to and from the releif of the Northern tribes. At that season we will be pretty certain of falling in with them, & If I can take the advantage of them—as troops in that plaee will be unexpected, I ean beat them, however will rest it with your consent. In paying of the Draughted militia ordered from Washington, I found an imposition which I in some measure deteeted. Instead of 12 men from Washington going into service, they were let of, and men that had families living in the valley were enrolled, & never did one hour's duty; some of them I paid before I knew where they lived, but as soon as I diseovered it, I detained their pay—whieh was twenty pounds. If you direct them to be paid, I shall do so; if not, I stand indebted for so mueh rec'd from the state. I think to pay such men as have families exposed, & would be obliged to Guard them, & preventing others from coming to their assistance, seting a bad example, however have enclosed they receipt; but I consider myself acting in behalf of the state, & to pay them money for no service done, would be wrong. So long as I am conscious that I have discharged my duty, they reproaehes of they people I have disregarded. I suppose there never was a company in service better pleased with their pay than they under my command for the year 1792; only those above mentioned, and they eannot themselves say that it's Just they should be paid. They public letters sent to they different captains from the Executive to prevent they companies going into service, I was obliged to imploy Express, & they different routs he went amount to about four hundred miles. Mr. Kent will present the receipt for they delivery of them, as they person wants his money; also hope they amount of my pay-roll to be delivered to Mr. Kent. 1793. June 26th

Richmond

Sir:

After the reduction of York by the combined arms of America & France, I furnished three ships to the commander-in-chief to transport the troops from York to the head of Elk, together with the Artillery, Baggage, &c. The Ships were the Cormorant, originally a British ship of war; the Oliver Cromwell, originally an American ship of war; the Queen Charlotte, originally a French Packet, all of them prizes to the French fleet under the command of the Count de Grace, from whom I purchased the two first for this State, and the last mentioned for myself. I am uncertain if any charge was ever made on the Agents books against the Continent for the two State ships, if there was not, a charge ought now to be made. I never received any payment or certificate for the other, and if it can with propriety be introduced into the acc't of the state against the Continent, the state will no doubt acc't with and pay me the sum allowed. As you are in the habit of corresponding with Mr. Davis, will you be so obliging as to make this communication. The Cormorant & Oliver Cromwell were large ships; the Queen Charlotte a small ship; she carried Gen. Hazen & 250 Troops, the other two carried tion of my conduct as an officer whilst honoured with the command of a detachment of militia in actual service last year. In order to this, I only request you to furnish me with the names of the men who you said were enrolled and never did one hour's duty. This, if true, the blame would ly principally on me, & wish no other person to be charged with it. As to your offer of paying the money now, I cannot except of it until the Decision of the Executive be known; for to the Examination of that respectable body I will show no backwardness to submit my conduct. Your proposals now would look too much like hush money, a thing, however moderate may fortune may be, I trust I will always despise, Sir. 1793. August 17th

MATH. WILLOUGHBY.

Aug. 17, 1793.

At the aforesaid time that I was at Fort Lee, I had powers of attorney to receive in the behalf of Philip Goodman, John Ier, Abraham Wilson, John Lawless, Edward Mobley, Adam Hunt, Jacob Henegar, Stephen Cawood, and James Caughson, from this county, and Samuel Livingston, William Daugherty, Sen'r, from Lee county, the money due to them for their Services. Capt. Lewis said he had not received the money for all the men, and could not pay me any until his returns from Richmond, as he was either going himself or Mr. Kent; and that on his return he would call at my house and pay me the men's discharges from Washington; and I relied on his veracity. I was at Abingdon the 15th of November, when I saw the following Advertisement on the Courthouse door:

This is to give notice that Discharges for the following Draughts who served under Lieut. Willoughby in Powell's Valley, in 1792, have not been brought forward for settlement: John Lawless, Philip Goodman, Adam Ely, John Iler, John Roman, Abraham Wilson, Adam Hunt, Edward Mobley, James Cauchson, Stephen Cawood, & John Lorimen. As It may be more convenient for them to attend at Capt. Craig's, near Abingdon, who will pay them when produced, if not produced before the fourth of December next, I shall return the money drawn for them to the Treasury.

(Signed) A. LEWIS.

November 7th, 1793.

Capt. Craig is furnished with a list agreeable to Mr. Willoughby's roll, except mileage & provision.

A. LEWIS.

On seeing the forementioned advertisement, I applyed immediately to Capt. Craig, who denyed having any of Lewis's money, but that Capt. Lewis had wrote to him to pay agreeable to aforementioned advertise-additional Guard as soon as possible. Provided the Hon'ble board has indulged me so far as not yet to appoint a Superintendent, and approve of Mr. McDonald's in my absence, the danger of his being taken in Executions is removed. 1793. August 26th

I have the honor to be with respect,

Your Mo. Ob't Serv't.

Gen'l Wood.

MATTHEW WILLOUGHBY TO COL. ARTHUR CAMPBELL, ENCLOSING MEMORIAL TO THE EXECUTIVE. August 26th

ESTATE AND DEED RECORDS OF YOHOGANIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA, 1776-81

Contributed by Raymond M. Bell
Washington, Pennsylvania

The records of Yohogania County, Virginia, are gradually becoming available. Although this county functioned mainly from 1776 to 1781 in southwestern Pennsylvania, its records are of considerable interest because they cover the Revolutionary period. The accompanying map shows the relation of modern counties to Yohogania County.

In 1902-05 Boyd Crumrine of Washington, Pa., published the Virginia Court Records of Yohogania County in Annals of the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh. The originals are at the Washington County Historical Society, Washington, Pa., and the Darlington Library, Pittsburgh, Pa. The court records among other items list deed entries and estates. Crumrine also published the abstracts of fifteen wills of Yohogania County and one of West Augusta District which he found in Washington County Deed Book B-1.

In 1963 Yohogania County land grants were published in The Virginia Genealogist, v. 7, pp. 78-83, 103-07. These grants list dates of settlement of the land. The originals are at the Library of West Virginia University, Morgantown. Additional notes on Yohogania County were published in The Virginia Genealogist, v. 8, p. 75.

The writer has recently found the Yohogania County deeds in Washington County Deed Book C-1 and the Yohogania County inventory and sale papers in Deed Book E-1. There are a number of names listed, but no heirs are given.

The record of decedents in Yohogania County as determined from the records mentioned above, is:

Dunmore's War 1774

After John Connally, the agent of John Murray, Earl of Dunmore, Royal Governor of Virginia, took possession of Fort Pitt, he named it Fort Dunmore early in 1774. He attempted retaliation for the Indian outrages and on 10 June the Governor called out the militia of southwest Virginia under the command of Gen. Andrew Lewis. In August the militia of Frederick County under Maj. Angus McDonald raided the Indian towns on the Muskingum River. Lord Dunmore came to the frontier and called on the neighboring militia to join in the expedition against the hostiles. Before his forces could join those of Gen. Lewis, the Indians attacked the latter on 10 October. The Indians were soundly defeated at the battle of Point Pleasant.
